

Food Marketing & Distribution Growth System

A Practical Step-by-Step Guide for Indian Entrepreneurs

VYAPAARKIT BUSINESS-IN-A-BOX SERIES

Why Most Food Businesses Fail in India

Food businesses fail because they focus only on recipes and taste. Distribution, marketing, and systems are ignored until it's too late.

Without proper channels, even the best products sit in warehouses.

Distribution Confusion

Should you sell D2C, through retailers, or on delivery apps? Most choose all at once and fail everywhere.

Margin Pressure

Commissions, discounts, and logistics eat into profits. You make ₹100 revenue but keep only ₹15.

Marketing Wastage

Spending on ads without understanding customer acquisition cost leads to losses, not growth.

The Real Cost of No System

You're Losing Money Right Now

₹25,000 - ₹2,00,000 per month lost without proper distribution and marketing systems.

- No clear system for channel selection
- Pricing without considering distribution costs
- No customer acquisition plan
- Middlemen eating profits
- Wasted investment in wrong channels
- Random execution, unpredictable results

📌 The biggest danger isn't failure... it's repeating the same mistakes every season.
